Restore Truth Token - RTT

February 2022

Mission Statement

Our mission is to restore civic literacy by building a strong community of supporters from all backgrounds with one simple goal: to support a cause driven by the American people which directly improves their lives.

Overview

Restore Truth Token (RTT) is a utility token which operates the Binance Smartchain (BEP20) and Ethereum (ETH), and has created an ecosystem in which the token plays a central role. The RTT development team launched OpenCanvas, an NFT marketplace. On the platform holders of RTT receive benefits and promotions unavailable to those not holding the token. The team soon after released RTT News Forum, an uncensored news website, which is only accessible to those holding RTT. Those without RTT in their wallet can not contribute to the site. There are also future plans to use RTT as a method of payment for bespoke and generic merchandise.

Using OpenCanvas, holders of DJT NFTs can also stake their NFTs for set periods of time in order to gain additional RTT.

Technical Information

RTT currently operates on the Binance Smartchain and Ethereum. There is a Moontography bridge accessible by an RTT Dex which allows holders to move their tokens between the two chains.

The token has an initial supply of 10,000,000,000 (10 billion) with a total of 1,604,794,112 RTT having been sent to a burn address meaning the circulating supply has reduced to 8,395,205,888 RTT. RTT is presently available for trading on Bitmart, PancakeSwap, Uniswap, and FegEx. RTT has also been listed on CoinGecko and CoinMarketCap.

A basic function of the token is that every transaction (buy/sell) has a fee attached to it. There is an automated swap to liquify function within the smart contract which means that when a certain threshold is hit (2,000,000 RTTv2) an automated token swap to BNB/Ethereum takes place. This is then split into wallets which can all be tracked within the blockchain.

RTT Ecosystem

RTT's utility includes an NFT Marketplace called OpenCanvas (OC), which is currently in phase three of its development. Presently OC features one RTT NFT collection, however, there will be more in the future. OC's link to RTT means that royalties from the marketplace will be used to support RTT's development. OC supports independent artists, can host multiple NFT collections, and allows people to create and trade their own NFTs. There will also be the added benefit to RTT holders that they'll receive a window of up to 15 minutes where they will be the only people able to mint new collections on OC upon release.

RTT's main utility is a news channel called RTT News Forum. This operates on the blockchain meaning it is immune to the censorship we all too often experience in everyday life. RTT News Forum is only accessible to those holding RTT. Holders need to connect their wallet to the site to verify their holdings. People without RTT in their wallet will not be able to actively contribute to the site. The alpha site launched in February 2022, and will grow incrementally as it becomes the go-to news aggregator for conservatives across the country.

The team has future plans to use RTT as a currency for supporters to buy bespoke and generic merchandise through the RTT website. This idea which is currently in its early stages as the team waits for mass adoption before progressing further.

Charitable Contributions

With a percentage of each blockchain transaction going towards charitable causes, the RTT team anticipates being able to donate money towards various charities numerous times throughout the year. It is their intention that this money remains separate from any political agenda or affiliation. The RTT team aims to consult the RTT community on the recipients of any charitable donation. They will do this by selecting and vetting up to five charities. The community will have involvement in assisting making the decision on charitable donations, this will likely be achieved by holding a voting poll where anyone that holds RTT will be able to cast their vote. In the event an individual or charitable group needs assistance, there will be an internal decision to take action, such decisions will be made by internal voting means.

Corporate Contributions

The RTT management team will be making contributions with any profits made from the RTT Ecosystem to organizations or individuals that help progress the America First Movement.
